ROOSEVELT PICKED BY CONVENTION

Nominated for Vice Presidency: Meeting Adjourns

BEGIN CAMPAIGN PLANS

Delegates Elated Over Spirit of Harmony in Ranks

(By the Associated Press)
SAN FRANCISCO—Delegates to the democratic national convention, their work done and the big gathering adjourned in a last roar of enthusiasm for the party standard bearer, Gov. James M. Cox of Ohio, and Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York, were scrambling today for train accommodations homeward.

Mr. Roosevelt was due to leave during the day for Dayton, O., to consult with Gov. Cox, where preliminary plans for the campaign will be mapped out, subject to amendment later when the party machinery is organized and the advisers selected. The assistant secretary intends to resign from the navy department as soon as he can clear up his desk and will spend ten days or so in Washington before shaping his plans for the campaign.

Democratic leaders were elated over the spirit of harmony which marked the last hours of the convention. There had been good feeling and tolerance shown throughout the struggle to reach a presidential nomination. It was said, but in the nomination of Mr. Roosevelt by acclamation following withdrawal of all other candidates, these leaders saw evidence of differences buried and a determination to work for victory in the election from which they drew great satisfaction. It was generally agreed that the convention had been a great success.

In a way the scene yesterday when Mr. Roosevelt was nominated rivaled that of the breakfast early in the morning of the McAdoo-Cox deadlock and the nomination of Gov. Cox. What is looked in the Senate expectancy of the last ballots after the action of Atty. Gen. Palmer in releasing his delegates broke down the barrier that had held the convention helpless through 38 ballots, the Roosevelt nomination made up in the swiftness with which the decision was reached.

A sweeping endorsement of Mr. Roosevelt's candidacy by Gov. Smith took the ball rolling. As speaker after speaker appeared to withdraw opposing candidates and second the Roosevelt nomination, a wave of cheering swept through the hall. The end of the convention was at hand when former Gov. Francis of Missouri signified withdrawal of his name by moving suspension of rules and nomination of the New Yorker by acclamation, the shout of "aye" that ratified his action shook the roof of the massive dome auditorium for the last time and the exodus of delegates was in progress even before formal adjournment was taken.

Midsummer Economy Week In Madison Set For July 10-17

Event is Planned to Draw Patronage From Madison Trade Zone; Window Displays, Advertising Urged

At Madison, Wis.
MIDSUMMER ECONOMY WEEK
July 10-17

ABOVE is the slogan adopted to boom mid-summer economy week, which is to be staged by Madison merchants in all lines, starting July 10 and running for one week, to July 17.

The merchants of Madison, keeping pace with the merchants in larger cities, plan to offer exceptional values in reduced prices and in this way through the co-operative efforts and through volumes of sales offer to the people of southern Wisconsin values that cannot be duplicated elsewhere.

The advertising campaign will be confined to the daily newspapers and the first announcements will be made tomorrow by various merchants in many lines. Window displays will be in readiness on Friday and the sales will start on Saturday.

The retail extension committee, through its steering committee, consisting of C. W. Jernin, George K. Anderson, R. W. Kauters, J. I. Hyland and C. O. McDaniels has realized for some time the necessity of co-operative merchandizing and after a thorough discussion of the situation has decided to put on the mid-summer economy week as a forerunner to a much larger sale which will be held in the fall provided the people of southern Wisconsin show their interest in the project, which is planned for their benefit.

"The big idea of this economy week," said a merchant this morning, "is for every store to offer real economy values and demonstrate to the people of southern Wisconsin that goods are selling and can be sold as cheaply in Madison as in any other city. If every merchant makes an effort to do this the people will respond by coming to Madison to look over the offerings. Much more can be accomplished by teamwork and I am confident that economy week in Madison will be a great drawing card. With the large circulation of our daily papers the people of the surrounding country will know of this economy event and will come to see what we have to offer."

Special arrangements will be made for the parking of cars and it is hoped that many will motor to Madison during the coming week and take advantage of the special bargains which will be offered in many stores, which have already agreed to join with their competitors and merchants in the mid-summer economy week campaign.

NEW LIGHT ON SLUSH FUNDS

Source of $1,000,000 Gen. Wood "Barrel" is Revealed

(By the Associated Press)
CHICAGO—One million dollars with which to further the campaign of Gen. Wood for the Republican nomination for president was underwritten by a group of New York men a year ago, William Loeb, eastern treasurer for Wood, told the senate investigation committee in session here.

Mr. Loeb, formerly private secretary to Theodore Roosevelt, said he was called into conference with George A. Whalen, Rufus Patterson, Col. Ambrose Monell, Zoth Freeman and others, to give his opinion as to what Wood's campaign would cost.

"I estimated the expense at $1,000,000," he told the committee. "Col. Monell underwrote $250,000, Mr. Whalen $250,000, William C. Proctor $250,000, and I agreed to get the rest."

Mr. Loeb declared $400,000 passed through his hands, but said the men who gave it to him might have secured it from some one else.

Gen. Wood, he testified, was present at the opening of this meeting but not when the money was underwritten.

J. B. Duke was one contributor to this $1,000,000, Loeb said. Leo W. Perkins gave him $10,000 and E. H. Rogers of the Standard Oil Co., $50,000, he said. He asserted that men might have obtained the money from others. Loeb presented checks showing the amounts he received. Senator Reed questioned him concerning an item of "five cashiers' checks $25,000."

Loeb said he mailed such checks under orders from former Postmaster General Hitchcock. One check went to Florida, one to Georgia, one to a Colonel Smith, one to a Republican national committeeman in the District of Columbia and one to Maryland. They were for $5,000 each he said.

These checks were put in envelopes without letters and mailed the witness said. When Senator Reed asked if this was not an unusual way to send money, Loeb replied: "Not in politics."

GRONNA BEATEN IN DAKOTA VOTE

(By the Associated Press)
FARGO, N. D.—Dr. E. F. Ladd, Nonpartisan league candidate for the republican nomination for United States senator, increased his lead over Senator A. J. Gronna to more than 2,000 votes on additional returns from Wednesday's primary. League men declare this virtually assures his nomination, as the remaining districts to be heard from are in territory favorable to the league.

With less than 100 precincts missing, Governor Frazier, league candidate, is 5,000 votes ahead of William Langer, independent republican, for the gubernatorial nomination.

ANOTHER FULL MEAL OF BUNK

Pinchot Thus Sums Up Program of Democratic Party

CHICAGO—Amos Pinchot, New York member of the committee of 48, which meets here Saturday in national convention, issued the following statement today:

"The democratic convention like the republican convention was highly satisfactory to the men and women of America who want a new party. We could have hoped for nothing more evasive or less calculated to meet the needs of the public either in the matter of the platform or the candidate.

"The democratic platform is a decidedly eloquent document that is full of sound and means nothing at all. So is the republican platform. It has no constructive policy or program. It is the expression of a few politicians who, if they had ideas, dared not offend Wall Street by expressing them. It goes on the theory that the public's appetite for buncombe was not fully satisfied by the republican performance and so it offers another full meal.

"As to Mr. Cox, like Mr. Harding, he was chosen because he is a mediocre man whom the financial world can trust, because he had a record of political conformity and friendly relations with the same gentlemen, who at the Blackstone hotel in Chicago, selected Mr. Harding to head the republican forces.

"There has been created quite skillfully a situation in which this group, which we speak of as Wall Street, will win whether we have a democratic or republican victory. This is a triumph of political maneuvering which the public should pause to admire. The new party will hold its convention in a few days. My advice to the public would be to read its platform carefully, and if it is not clear, brief, practical and constructive, to retire to their homes next election day and steer clear of the polls."

MADISON MAN IS NAMED HEAD OF EDUCATORS' BODY

At the annual convention of the Wisconsin Commercial Educators' association held in Wausau, H. W. Harb, secretary of the "4C" College of Commerce, who has just returned from the meeting, was elected president. This association was organized sixteen years ago and the next meeting to be held in July of 1921 will come to Madison to meet in the new "4C" college building in Madison in 1904, and since then has been constantly growing in interest and value to commercial teachers and the profession as a whole in the state. It is expected that Madison will attract a large attendance at the coming session.

COMMITTEE INJUNCTION OF 48 ISSUE AIMED AT STATE CALL SEC'Y COLBY

Seek Majority Sentiment of Progressives in Wisconsin

TO HOLD REFERENDUM

Popular Ballot Closing Aug. 3 to Decide Choice of Body

A call to the Progressives of Wisconsin to support the Committee of 48 and take part in a referendum on a candidate for governor, was issued today by the Wisconsin executive committee of the organization, with headquarters in Milwaukee.

Pointing out that the Committee is non-factional, the call declares that its chief task in the coming campaign will be to learn what candidacies has the majority support of the Progressives in the state and then to unite all Progressives behind that candidacy.

The call follows:

To the Progressives of Wisconsin: A clear majority of the citizens of Wisconsin are soundly, constructively Progressive. Only a minority support the Stalwart-point of view.

This has been demonstrated at the polls again and again and again, until no fair-minded man can doubt it.

But at the last two state elections Wisconsin has elected a Stalwart to the Governor's chair. Why?

Why? Because the Progressive majority has allowed itself to be divided at the primaries, with the result that a united Stalwart minority has "put across" its candidate. In 1916, and again in 1918, several leaders in the Progressive movement sought the Republican nomination as Governor. Each had a large following of sincere, true-hearted Progressives. There was no essential difference of principle between them. The contest was purely one as to whose personal ambitions should be gratified, whose unquestioned deserts should be rewarded.

This year we are facing a similar situation. Several Progressive leaders, men of ability, men who have been truly faithful to the Progressive cause, men whose past services unquestionably deserve recognition, are contesting with each other and are dividing the Progressive forces.

Meanwhile, all evidence points that the Stalwart support will be centered behind one candidate.

It is unfair at this time to ask any particular one of our Progressive candidates to withdraw. Which should we ask? Each honestly believes himself the choice of a majority of the Progressives. It is unfair for any one of us to make his own individual opinion the basis of deciding which has majority support.

The thing that is lacking is a democratic, impartial machinery through which to determine who is the majority choice of the Progressive movement.

The Committee of 48, Wisconsin state organization, has such machinery. It has a perfected system of mail referendum, which safeguards the secrecy and honesty of the ballot, while at the same time it secures wide-spread participation in the vote by making such participation simple and non-burdensome.

The Committee of 48 is non-factional. It aims only to unite the Progressives of Wisconsin, of America, for effective political influence. Membership in the Committee of

BADGER LUMBER MAN KILLS SELF

MARINETTE, Wis.—George A. Michelson, Sr., one of the most prominent residents of Marinette, head of the Michelson Lumber company, of this city, committed suicide this afternoon. He shot himself in the abdomen with a shotgun, death being almost instantaneous. The deed was committed in an arbor at his home on Riverside Ave. Mr. Michelson suffered a sunstroke about ten days ago while supervising work on his new saw mill now in process of erection, and had been in poor health since. He was a brother-in-law of former Mayor Francis A. Brown and of Henry Swart, millionaire lumberman of this city. His body was found by his wife, who heard the shot.

Seeks to Bar Proclamation Declaring Suffrage Ratified

C. S. Fairchild Would Tie Hands of Attorney General

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON—Proceedings asking that Bainbridge Colby, secretary of state, be enjoined from issuing any proclamation declaring the suffrage amendment ratified were instituted in the District of Columbia supreme court today by Charles S. Fairchild of New York, president of the American Constitutional league.

Mr. Fairchild also seeks to prevent Atty. Gen. Palmer from enforcing the amendment. Justice Bailey issued a rule on Secretary Colby and the attorney general to show cause July 13, why the motion should not be granted.

The basis of the proceedings is the claim that the ratification of the amendment by the West Virginia legislature was illegal because accomplished by fraud and that the proposed ratification by the Tennessee legislature also would be illegal on the ground that the legislature lacked authority under the state's constitution to act on the measure.

The attack on the amendments through the courts at this time came as a surprise in suffrage circles, here. An attack on the legality of the action of the Tennessee legislature had been expected but not until the legislature actually had acted.

Call Is Issued.

Release Sought For Dakota Man Accused Of Brutal Murder

BISMARCK, N. D.—A strong effort to obtain the release from the North Dakota penitentiary of Henry Laver, serving a life sentence for the murder of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Wolf, their five daughters and a chore boy, Jacob Hofer, on the Wolf farm near Turtle Lake, N. D., seven weeks ago, has been launched by relatives of Laver, who charge that he was "railroaded."

Pending investigation, the payment of $1,000 offered by Governor Frazier for the apprehension of the murderer of the eight people is being withheld from the parties certified to the governor as being entitled to the reward.

Henry Laver was arrested after a ten-day investigation of the crime. He was under a twelve-hour third degree examination when he broke down and confessed the murders. The man was forced to fix his gaze on photographs of the bodies of his victims taken in the cellar of the Wolf home where five bodies were piled, and in a shed nearby, where three bodies were piled up, one of them, that of Mrs. Wolf, being horribly mutilated by hogs. It was after undergoing this ordeal for nearly thirty minutes, after he had been plied with questions for more than eleven hours, that Laver confessed.

The next day Laver was taken before the district judge. He recounted, in the court room, the story of the murders, saying that he and Wolf had fought over a dog which had attacked Laver's cattle. Wolf, said Laver, produced the shotgun with which Laver killed the family, Laver saying that he seized the gun in a scuffle and that he lost his senses and began killing the people. He told how he "hunted" down two little girls while they hid in the measure.

The attack on the amendments through the courts at this time came as a surprise in suffrage circles, here. An attack on the legality of the action of the Tennessee legislature had been expected but not until the legislature actually had acted.

STEPHENS MAY ENTER CONTEST

May be Conservative Candidate for Member of Assembly

Glen W. Stephens will probably be the conservative candidate for member of the assembly in the city of Madison this year. His friends are already sounding out the different ward committees to ascertain Stephens' strength. Stephens is a member of the American Legion and is said to be outspoken against many of the economic reforms now being urged in Wisconsin. He is associated with Wroman Mason in the practice of law in this city.

This assembly district is represented at the present time by Marcus Johnson. It is understood that progressive republicans will have a meeting within a few days to select a candidate who will oppose Stephens.

Seven of the victims were shot to death, the eighth, a baby three and one-half years old, being slain with a hatchet. An infant less than a year old was the only one to escape, and Laver says that he didn't know the baby was there or he "supposed" he would have killed the baby, too.

Laver was in the state penitentiary under life sentence forty-eight hours after he was arrested. His wife and four children have been provided for under the terms of the county mothers' pension act.

BABE RUTH IS HURT IN CRASH

Home Run King Injured When Automobile Overturns

(By the Associated Press)
PHILADELPHIA—"Babe" Ruth, champion home-run hitter of the New York Americans, was slightly injured in an automobile accident near Wawa, Pa., early today.

The New York team played in Washington yesterday and Ruth, his wife, and three other New York players were motoring to New York. Their team was not scheduled to play today. Ruth was at the wheel of his big touring car. In rounding a sharp curve near Wawa the car overturned.

The occupants were thrown out in a lonely section at 2 a. m. Making their way to a farm house, they had their injuries dressed and were brought to Philadelphia in another motor car. Later they took a train for New York.

The Ruth car was badly smashed. It was hauled to a garage in Media, Pa., not far from the scene of the accident.

"Sell it for what you can get for it," Ruth is said to have told the proprietor. "I'm through with it."

SERBS APPEAL TO BADGERS FOR AID IN HEALTH WORK

Program is Built On American Plan, Says Letter Received

Serbia, reconstructing its internal life, is starting to build up a national health organization on the American plan, and a letter to the Wisconsin state board of health from the Serbian Child Welfare association of America solicits a capable health official to head the extensive public health program developed for the devastated little nation. The person accepted for this task, it is stated, will have a great opportunity, and will be practically the expert consultant for the minister of social politics of the kingdom.

The new nation of the Serbs, Croats, and Slovenes is keenly alive to the importance of public health and child welfare work as a means particularly of saving the vast population of orphans and fatherless children in that part of the nation which was Serbia before the war. The new health organization was planned by William J. Doherty, formerly deputy commissioner of charities of New York, with the aid of experts and a corps of nurses and doctors.

COAL BOARD WON'T ADMIT PROFIT TALK

Monopoly Charge Ruled Out by Wilson Commission

LAUCK SCORES INDUSTRY

Coal Barons Huge Octopus Trust, Declares Economist

(By the Associated Press)

SCRANTON—A charge that the anthracite coal industry is dominated by a monopolistic system that "presses up to squeeze the consumer and down to squeeze the wage earner, by diverting profits at points where neither can see them through the screen of bookkeeping and legal devices," was made today before the anthracite coal commission by W. Jett Lauck in arguing the admissibility of exhibits on profiteering and monopoly which he submitted in behalf of the United Mine Workers of America and to which the representatives of the operators interposed objections. Mr. Lauck also declared that the real profits of the anthracite industry were at least seven times the apparent profits.

The commission was appointed by Pres. Wilson to arbitrate the differences between the miners and operators.

Operators Object

"The very fact that the operators object to these exhibits becoming a part of the official record in this case," said Mr. Lauck, "constitutes the strongest conceivable argument why the commission not only should receive this evidence, but should give it first consideration in arriving at a determination of this issue."

"The method and structure of combination in the anthracite industry is a matter relevant and vital to this present controversy. Thorough investigation of this monopoly will reveal facts which do actually exist but which are illegitimately withheld from the worker in wages and taken from the consumer in unwarranted prices."

A Huge Combination
The anthracite industry has been organized into a huge combination, a monopoly very similar in structure to an octopus. Its head and body are a very small group of banking interests. Its entwining arms are seven railway systems which control at their extremities the anthracite mining operations of the country.

The profits of the anthracite industry are to be found in the profits of the anthracite railroads and in the profits of the sales companies controlled by the stockholders. To these must be added the millions of dollars which go each year to those who hold the tens of millions of bonded indebtedness which have resulted from the financing of the industry.

Profits Are Concealed
"The point which we wish to make is that a well defined process exists by which the profits are successfully concealed, the high prices being explained by apparent high costs. The losses of the railroad coal companies are written into the cost of transportation through advances without interest and through the funding operations which impose large fixed charges on the railroad department.

The high freight rates will be such inflated transportation costs seems to justify are written into the cost of anthracite and serve to bridge the gap between the mine cost and the high prices which prevail."

COMMITTEE OF 48 ISSUE CALL

48 is not limited to any particular class or group. Labor or the farmer, the business man, the professional man or the clerk, man or woman alike, any citizen of progressive view-point is eligible and welcome.

The Committee of 48 is controlled as to all its policies and candidates not by any little factional group but by its entire membership, through its system of mail referendum. It is, by all odds, the most democratic political organization in existence.

The Committee of 48 has no interest in any particular candidacy. Its only interest is to learn what candidacy has the majority support of the Progressives of Wisconsin and then to unite all Progressives behind that candidacy, to the end that Progressive policies may be successfully championed.

We believe that the vast majority of the Progressives of Wisconsin are far more interested in principles than in personalities. We believe that the majority of the Progressives of Wisconsin are heartily sick of a situation which divides their strength and defeats their enactment of policies which the majority desires.

We invite that majority who put principles above faction or personal interest to unite with us, using the democratic machinery provided by the Committee of 48 to determine and then to make effective the desires of our Progressive citizenry as a whole.

Closing Aug. 3rd, the Committee of 48 will hold a referendum of its membership on candidate for governor. We invite all Progressives to join the Committee of 48, taking an equal part and exerting an equal influence with any of us in this referendum.

Progressives of Wisconsin: In this hour when such grave problems confront our state and our nation, we summon you to lay aside all things personal or petty which may divide us, and to marshal in the people's cause just as effectively organized a support as special privilege marshals in its own selfish interest. We are a majority. We have only our own pettiness and selfishness to blame if we remain longer disunited.

Urges Support of Candidate Standing Firm On Platform

TREATY IS BIG ISSUE

Democrats Vague on Most Vital Points, He Declares

(By the Associated Press) SAN FRANCISCO—Support of the republican party "with a candidate standing four square upon the platform" is the only choice left those who believe in safeguarding, protecting and preserving our Americanism," Senator Johnson declared in a statement at his home here today.

"For more than a year the contest over the president's league of nations has been waged in congress," Senator Johnson's statement said. "It has been the all engrossing and paramount issue. Of necessity this issue came to the convention of the two great political parties. Both republicans and democrats in their platforms have indulged in the usual political verbosity, but nevertheless these platforms, in direct opposition to each other sharply define and clearly present the question for decision in the November election."

"The republican party declared that the president's covenant failed signally to accomplish its purpose and contained stipulations not only intolerable for an independent people, but certain to produce the injustice, hostility and controversy among nations which it proposed to prevent, and repudiated to a degree wholly unnecessary and unjustifiable the time honored policies in favor of peace declared by Washington, Jefferson and Monroe."

"The republican party stands firmly against the president's covenant as presented, denounces it as breeding war rather than promoting peace, and reaffirms the time honored, nation old policies of Washington, Jefferson and Monroe."

"The democratic party, on the other hand, rejected every effort to modify or qualify the president's proposed league of nations, endorsed the president's attitude and took its position in favor of the league as presented. It is true that the democrats in efforts to placate, say something about reservation, which might make clearer or more specific the obligations of the United States, but the language is meaningless and does not at all alter the essential position of the democratic party for the league as presented."

"The two parties acted in similar fashion in one respect, but from different motives and for different reasons. Both rejected the pleas for adoption of the league with reservations, the democrats because they were for the league as presented and because no reservations devised by the human mind could anticipate the contingencies which might arise in the future from an instrument of such potential possibilities for harm."

"Thus the issue finally comes from the forum of congress to the final arbitrament of the American people. The overshadowing question in the campaign therefore is whether we enter the maelstrom of European and Asiatic politics and diplomacy and become a part of the cynical imperialism of the old world, or whether America shall live her life in her own way, independent, unfettered, mindful ways of her obligations to humanity and civilization, but free to act as each crisis shall arise and maintaining always the policy of Washington and Jefferson and Monroe, of friendship with all nations, entangling alliances with none."

"With a candidate standing four square upon the platform, the issue leaves those who believe in safeguarding, protecting and preserving our Americanism but one choice, and that is to support the republican party."

FIVE STILL IN STATE DESTROYED

Five large stills, more than 800 pounds of sugar, a dozen barrels of mash and several cases of cane molasses were unearthed in less than three hours in Superior Friday by state prohibition officials, assisted by city officers, according to E. E. Parkinson, deputy state prohibition commissioner who returned from there Tuesday. Mr. Parkinson says that a large quantity of moonshine was destroyed and some is being kept for evidence.

A scheme to manufacture liquor on a wholesale basis was unearthed at the first place. The proprietor, John Migalski, is out on bail. According to Mr. Parkinson a great deal of information from various sources has been received about stills, and raids are being planned in a number of places.

AMERICAN WINS AT GOLF TOURNEY

VERSAILLES—Walter Hagen, American professional, won the French open golf championship on the links here today. Hagen defeated Lafitte, his French rival, in the play off of their tie. The American had an advantage of one stroke on the morning round and finished the afternoon in 75 whereas the Frenchman ran up a score of 78.

LENROOT SEES CLASS STRIFE

Declares Foes Appeal to Prejudice to Defeat Him

MILWAUKEE—Senator Lenroot, in his first campaign speech today before the citizens' Lenroot committee at the Athletic club, charged that his opponents were seeking to defeat him by arousing and appealing to all sorts of class prejudice.

"He declared his opponent, James Thompson, La Follette candidate, was seeking the railroad vote by standing for the impossible Plumb plan; the German vote by seeking a protest against false charges of disloyalty and the farmers' vote by promising to make the farmer rich at the expense of the rest of the country."

Speaking of the so-called "protest" vote in Wisconsin, Senator Lenroot said: "There should be a protest vote against those people who claim to speak for the state, but who don't; we should have a vote in this state for something, instead of against something."

"Every resident of the state who travels has been humiliated outside by charges of disloyalty against Wisconsin, most unjust charges and undeserved for the most part. The record of Wisconsin is one we can all well be proud of. The trouble in Wisconsin has been that pretended leaders have claimed to speak for its people. This only means that every man who loves his flag has a duty to perform at the polls next September and resolve that in so far as it lies in him, Wisconsin shall be redeemed."

He declared himself in favor of impartial tribunals to settle railroad disputes and disputed the alleged statement of labor leaders that a strike is "none of the public's business."

The switchmen's strike, the senator said, has led to a situation which may result in thousands of people in the northwest suffering from the cold next winter.

OBSTACLES TO APPRECIATION OF POETRY LISTED

Prof. W. E. Leonard Puts Limitation of Vocabulary First

Why so many people fail to get anything out of poetry was explained by William Ellery Leonard, assistant professor of English, at a lecture on "Some Obstacles to the Appreciation of Poetry," given at the law building of the university yesterday afternoon.

"Most people have a working vocabulary of 60 words exclusive of prepositions, interjections and profanity," according to Prof. Leonard, and so fail to appreciate the poet's vocabulary as well as being unable to understand the background of the poem. They may appreciate the poetry of nature itself but fail to enter into the poem which is a man talking in impassioned concentrated form of something that has meant something to him.

He gave as other causes the incoherence of attention, the failure of the imagination to see the suggested picture and the failure to have thought about and to have entered into the experiences of life.

REDS LAUNCH MASS ATTACK

Fling Forces at Poles Over Front of 720 Miles

(By the Associated Press)

WARSAW—Along a front of approximately 720 miles the Russian bolsheviks have launched the greatest attack they have ever hurled against the Polish lines. On the northern and southern flanks the Poles are retiring in the face of superior enemy forces, the attack on the northern sector being the most severe of the struggle on this front.

Faced with the necessity of shortening their line the Poles have begun a withdrawal at all points. The bolshevik offensive is heaviest on the northern sector of the front. Northeast of Rovno the bolsheviks have advanced, cutting the railroad to Kovel.

Severe fighting is going on along the right flank of the Polish line and also on the Berezina front, where the soviet army has brought up large reinforcements.

Legislation may be presented at the next legislature by the commission to provide that when natural resources, such as game, are capitalized that the state get an appreciable return.

"It Helped Me From the Start," Says Mrs. Carter

"I Certainly Bless the Day I Began Taking Tanlac," She Declares

Here is another very striking instance of the value of Tanlac to persons suffering from the after effects of influenza. Mrs. Irma Carter, of 2706 Ighart avenue, St. Paul, Minnesota, says:

"I spent nearly the whole of last fall in bed in a terribly rundown condition, following a bad attack of the influenza, and could find nothing that would relieve me until I took Tanlac. I no more than got one attack of severe cold and sore throat than I would get down with another, and the least bad weather made me so miserable that I was simply miserable. My appetite left me, and my strength was in such poor condition that everything I ate bloated me all up with gas, and I had terrible pains in my chest. I kept getting worse all the time, and words simply cannot describe how I suffered."

"I read so much about Tanlac that I finally got a bottle and it helped me so much from the very start that the pain left my chest before I had even finished the first bottle. I have taken four bottles now and my appetite is so keen that I'm eating just like a starved person. I've been relieved entirely of bloating and all other signs of indigestion, and have already gained nine pounds in weight. I'm enjoying good health again and certainly bless the day I started on Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold in Madison by the Luckey Pharmacies, and in Mazomanie by C. A. Shields, in Mt. Horeb by Geo. C. Robertshaw, in Cambridge by Ole Hilstad, and by the leading druggists in every town.—Adv.

They make a good many jokes at the expense of the "poor married man," but really marriage is no joke to the man who is married.

It is a stern, sobering event to the average man when he takes unto himself a wife. It means two mouths to feed instead of one. Two people to be properly clothed, a home to furnish, additional duties and responsibilities. It means more economy, more careful adjustment of finances. An account at our bank is one of the greatest safeguards the newly married man can make. Save a little something every week, every month, every year for a rainy day.

NEW ARMY ACT TO TEACH OBEDIENCE TO MILITARY CASTE

Joker in Reorganization Act Will Give Military Court Power to Punish a Civilian for "Contempt"

By CHARLES T. HALLINAN, Secretary of American Union Against Militarism.

Today, for the first time in our history, a military court martial has the power to punish a civilian for "contempt."

This little innovation—part of the slow but definite aggrandizement of the American General Staff—we owe to the Army Reorganization act which was recently hustled through congress by the "big army" combine of Republicans and Democrats. Hustled through congress, signed by the President and now the law of the land.

Heretofore great care has been taken to make sure that a civilian who, in time of peace, ran afoul of the military authorities, was not tried by a military tribunal but was turned over to the civil authorities, specifically to the United States District court, for trial. Charges might be preferred against him by army officers, but he was guaranteed a trial by a jury of his peers, quite in the spirit of the old Mutiny Act of 1688 which sturdily declared: "no man may be forejudged of life or limb or subjected to any kind of punishment by Martial Law in any other manner than by the judgment of his Peers and according to the known and Established Laws of this Realm."

But all that is now out of date. Exceedingly so.

Article 32 of our old Articles of War, describing the organization and procedure of a court martial, said:

"A court martial may punish at discretion, subject to the limitations contained in Article 14, any person who uses any menacing words, signs or gestures in its presence or who disturbs its proceedings by any riot or disorder."

On the face of it, this looks pretty broad, but a glance at Section 14 discloses the fact that the provisions applied only to those who were "subject to military law." A civilian accused of "contempt" had to be turned over to the civil authorities for trial.

But, in the revision of the Articles of War recently made by congress and tacked upon the Army Reorganization bill, the phrase "subject to the limitations contained in Article Fourteen" was quietly dropped. "Any person" means today literally any person—any labor leader, for example, who offends the court martial by his bearing, or any old-fashioned citizen who endeavors to "stand on his rights" in the presence of a military tribunal.

He can be tried then and there for "contempt" and punished with one month's imprisonment or a fine of not more than $100, or both.

It is not a very serious punishment, of course, but the General Staff is probably satisfied. The principle is established and that is the main thing. Some day they may slip an amendment through congress removing that restriction as to punishment so that the offending civilian can get the same punishment for "contempt"—actual or constructive contempt—which can now be visited on the enlisted man.

When the question came up on May 28 in the House of Representatives, Congressman Bee of Texas conducted a hard fight against it, but the "big army" crowd was out in full force and smothered him. The discussion in the Congressional Record reads in part as follows:

Mr. Bee: "Mr. Chairman, on page 40, Article 32 seems to me a dangerous one inasmuch as it gives a military tribunal the right to punish a civilian for contempt. It occurred to me that that was a dangerous precedent and I felt it my duty to call attention to it."

Mr. Kahn: "Mr. Speaker, the Articles of War were considered by a subcommittee of the Committee on Military Affairs of which the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. Crago) was chairman. That committee went into these questions very fully. They had voluminous hearings. A committee from the American Legion appeared before that subcommittee and went over every article embraced in it. That subcommittee felt convinced that it was advisable to retain that section and they reported to the Military Affairs Committee."

Congressman Crago then arose and defended the change on the general grounds that it wouldn't do to let civilians run amuck in a court martial. Congressman Bee persisted in his criticism of the section, but no one came to his rescue and the thing went through!

An examination of the printed hearings held by Mr. Crago's subcommittee shows that the legislative committee of the American Legion endorsed the bill:

Mr. Hull: "As I understand it, you have reviewed the Articles of War as proposed here, and you agree that they are all right?"

Mr. Miller (Chairman of the Legislative Committee of the American Legion): "We agree that, representing the American Legion, we are in thorough accord with this amendment and merely want to come before you formally and tell you that we are in favor of this proposed legislation."

Mr. Hull: "Have you any objection to any of the changes proposed by General Crowder?"

Mr. Miller: "We have no objection to them. We realize that they are largely administrative, and we are very glad to know by his testimony and that of his assistants given here this morning that they have agreed to the changes proposed in this amendment."

ROUNDY'S RAZZBERRIES

The only book now left for White to use is the fish book.

It started to rain from the sixth round light and stopped quick.

White was the only one, I suppose, to see "stars" out.

It looked as if Leonard did not want it to run into extra innings. That is why it ended in the ninth.

White made Leonard look like an amateur up till the ninth round. White was faster and landed more telling blows and the wallop seemed to daze Leonard. He will not be able to take a blow out of his handkerchief for a week from the look of his nose.

I picked White to shade him while he still looked like an 11 to 4 bet. I had Leonard picked as off color from his long layoff. I said White would out box him all the way through and I believe I was right. He fought a regular battle, this White.

The most prominent part about White is his chin.

There were 10,000 people there, 9,999 who were for White to win.

As a referee, Ed. Smith, the Chicago American's is a dandy sport writer, I think.

Jackson or Fendler could have taken the crown away from Leonard. Only if they could have got the crack at him.

If Dempsey left his fighting ability in the movie studios like Leonard has, Carpenter has got a chance then to whip him.

If Leonard weighed only 137½ lbs. ringside, I can fight Wilde, the English champ, at 110.

You could not get a room. Chicken coops were renting at $2 a roost. I tried to get a bunk at the police station and the chief said "nothing doing, it is full of crooks now."

They claim there was a good bunch of Chicago crooks in the crowd. After I tried to get a bed and pay for a meal the only thing that looked square to me all day was the ring.

It is one of the best arenas in the U. S. Can seat 15,000 in a pinch. Dempsey and Mike of St. Paul are about booked for labor day there.

The bout was pulled off on schedule time. The crowd was handled in great shape and they had to battle all the time while in the ring.

That knockout punch White got he might ask the state of Michigan for compensation for injury for a year.

They claim Leonard plays the wheat market. If he ever hits the wheat market like he hit White in the ninth he ought to knock the bottom out of it.

Most cities had a Same Fourth, but when White knocked Leonard through the ropes for a count of 4 Benton Harbor must have thought they had an insane Fourth from the noise.

Names Men for Long Race;

Short $100,000 on Cash

NEW YORK—The American Olympic committee, which is making arrangements to have the United States thoroughly represented at the Olympic games at Antwerp, Belgium, held an all day session on Tuesday, a joint meeting of the nomination, selection and executive committees.

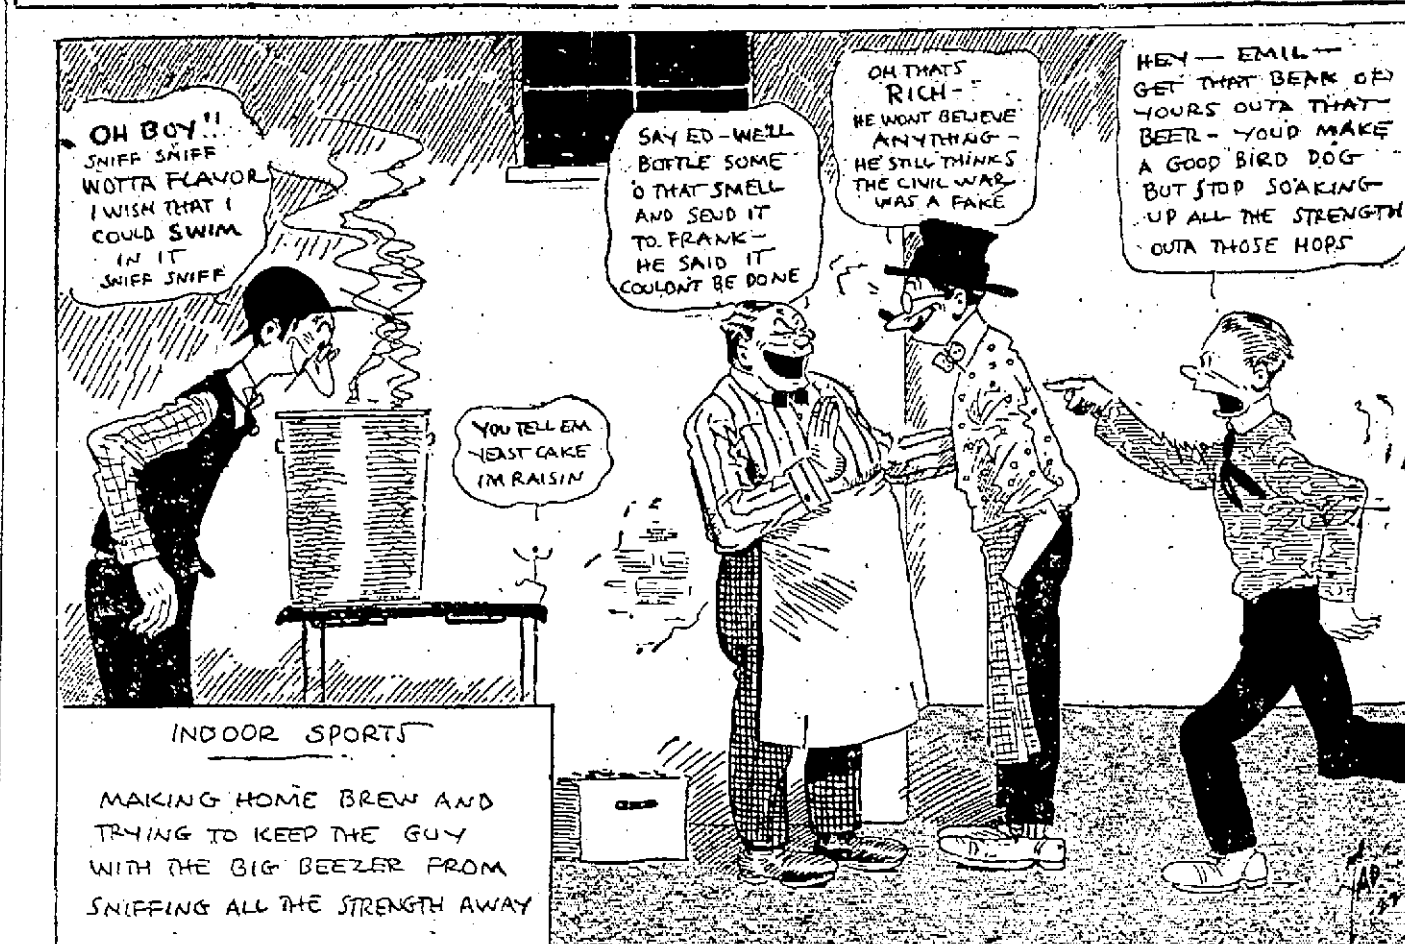

The marathon team was selected, managers and coaches for the different teams appointed and an appeal made for generous subscriptions from Americans who wish to have complement of team members in every branch of the sport sent across to do justice to the athletic supremacy which the United States representatives have won and upheld since the revival of the Olympic games at Athens.

It is estimated that $200,000 will be required in order to send full teams in each branch of sport. About $20,000 has been subscribed and pledges for twice that amount have been given. The committee believes that gate receipts at the final tryouts will net about $40,000, so that another $100,000 will be necessary and this sum must be donated within the next ten or twelve days.

The following men were chosen for the marathon teams: Carl Lind, ex and Arthur Robb, Boston; Joseph O'Brien and Jack Weber, Pittsburgh; Charles Mallor, Chicago; Frank Zena, Newark, N. J., and Edwin White, New York, as substitutes.

While the Shamrock IV had not as many trial races as was expected, Sir Thomas said he was pleased with its behavior and felt confident that it has a good chance of lifting the cup this time.

Swats Out Homer

The Gisholt Industrials of Madison went down to defeat on the little end of a 4 to 2 score at the hands of the Wauzeke White Sox in a holiday game played on the Wauzeke diamond July 5. The Gisholt batters collected eight hits off McCoy, the Wauzeke hurler, but were unable to hit when hits meant runs. McCoy fanned seven men and issued three free tickets to first. Janon, Madison shortstop, tied the score in the sixth inning with a home run, but a concerted attack on Peterson resulted in the scoring of two runs in the eighth which gave the game to Wauzeke.

STOCKS TAKE ADVANCE TODAY

Rails Take Part in General Rise in Market

NEW YORK—Rails participated in the further general advance of the forenoon on the stock market today. The entire list was stimulated by the broadest buying in several weeks. This was reflected in the first hour's dealings which approximated 300,000 shares, or more than the total turnover of numerous recent sessions. Canadian Pacific almost 3 points and Southern Pacific, Atchafalpa, Norfolk and Western, and Louisville and Nashville gained 1 to 1 1/2. Chemical and paper shares also advanced substantially with motor accessories. The eight per cent opening rate for call money was the lowest initial quotation thus far this month.

Oils and food shares were the sustaining features of the final hour, most other issues reacting under pressure of realizing sales. The closing was irregular.

PUBLISH TAX ROLLS.
LA CROSSE—In order that every taxpayer in La Crosse may know what his neighbor is assessed on the tax rolls, a complete assessment of property of the city, compared with figures of the past year, is being published in pamphlet form. The plan, which contemplates an equalization of assessments in La Crosse, is the idea of Mayor A. A. Bentley. A storm of protests is expected when the board of review meets next week.

MANITOWOC—Miss
Spink, last of the girls injured in the accident at the Aluminum Goods plant three months ago, has so far recovered that she was permitted to return to her home from the hospital. Miss Spink was seriously burned and submitted to skin grafting, and it may be necessary to perform another operation of grafting to aid her. It was at first thought that her life could not be saved.

LET MR. PALMER TESTIFY

WHEN the committee of Senators headed by William S. Kenyon of Iowa meets at Chicago today to investigate campaign expenditures, one of its first acts should be to call Attorney General Mitchell Palmer to the witness stand.

Just before Congress adjourned last month, Mr. Palmer voluntarily appeared before the Senate committee to answer charges preferred against him by Judge Bonniwell of Philadelphia.

Judge Bonniwell—himself a "wet" and not chargeable with crusading for prohibition—testified that the Attorney General had made improper "deals" whereby he had allowed the liquor interests in Pennsylvania to violate the law, in order to further his candidacy for presidential honors.

Mr. Palmer defended himself characteristically on that occasion by calling Judge Bonniwell a liar.

Since the hearing at Washington, the Democratic convention has met and adjourned and most of Judge Bonniwell's charges have been substantially confirmed by what happened at the convention hall.

Probably the "wettest" contingent at San Francisco was the delegation from Illinois, headed by George Brennan, political heir of the late Roger Sullivan.

Before the Illinois delegation left for the west, Delegate Michael Kenna, in an interview published in the Chicago Herald-Examiner, declared himself so confident his favorite, Cox, would be nominated that he would stay at home and send his alternate, Mr. Kenna, who is familiarly known in Chicago politics as "Hinky Dink," said further:

"The Illinois delegation is dripping wet. . . . The delegation is fixed for Palmer on the first few ballots."

Now, there is nothing reprehensible in any candidate receiving "wet" votes for any office. But when the "wettest" delegation at San Francisco is "fixed" for Mr. Palmer, who has long been known as a "bone dry," that fact is prima facie evidence that Judge Bonniwell's charges will bear further investigation.

But more than that, "Hinky Dink" went so far as to hint broadly in his interview that there was a "deal" between Sullivan and Palmer and that in voting for Palmer, the Illinois delegates were carrying out the express mandate of the departed boss.

What was this "deal" between the head of the Department of Justice of the United States and the boss of one of the most corrupt political machines in America?

What favors had the Attorney General shown Roger Sullivan which left upon that gentleman obligations of such weight that they remained after death, and occasioned a solemn injunction to his friends to discharge them?

The political prototype of Mr. Sullivan of Illinois is Mr. Murphy of Tammany. Mr. Murphy has just been indicted for the falsifying of income tax returns. When Mr. Sullivan died a few months ago, it was learned that after a life spent in politics he had left a fortune of $1,500,000 although before his death he had given away millions to his children.

That Mr. Sullivan used his vast political power to protect his friends in Illinois, many of whom were indicted for violation of local, state and federal laws, has been no secret for years. That he made frequent trips to Washington in behalf of his friends, and that the Department of Justice was one of his frequent stops, is also well known. That Mr. Sullivan visited Washington last winter and conferred with men high in the federal administration is a fact recorded in half the newspapers of the land.

If, as it seems extremely likely, Mr. Palmer was included on Mr. Sullivan's calling list; if Mr. Sullivan and Mr. Palmer discussed together Mr. Palmer's presidential candidacy; if Mr. Palmer was promised certain support at the convention in the event he did certain things; in short, if a "deal" was consummated between Mr. Palmer and Mr. Sullivan, as indicated by Mr. Sullivan's henchman "Hinky Dink," that fact is of immense interest to the public and clearly within the purview of the Senate resolution, which gives the committee in session at Chicago full power to investigate the use of "influence" as well as the use of money by candidates for office.

In view of Mr. Palmer's extraordinary activity in uncovering "plots," and in view further of his well known conviction that certain insidious forces are at work undermining the Government of the United States, certainly he will be only too glad to appear before the Senate committee, on his way back from the west and explain what happened at San Francisco.

COX AND HARDING

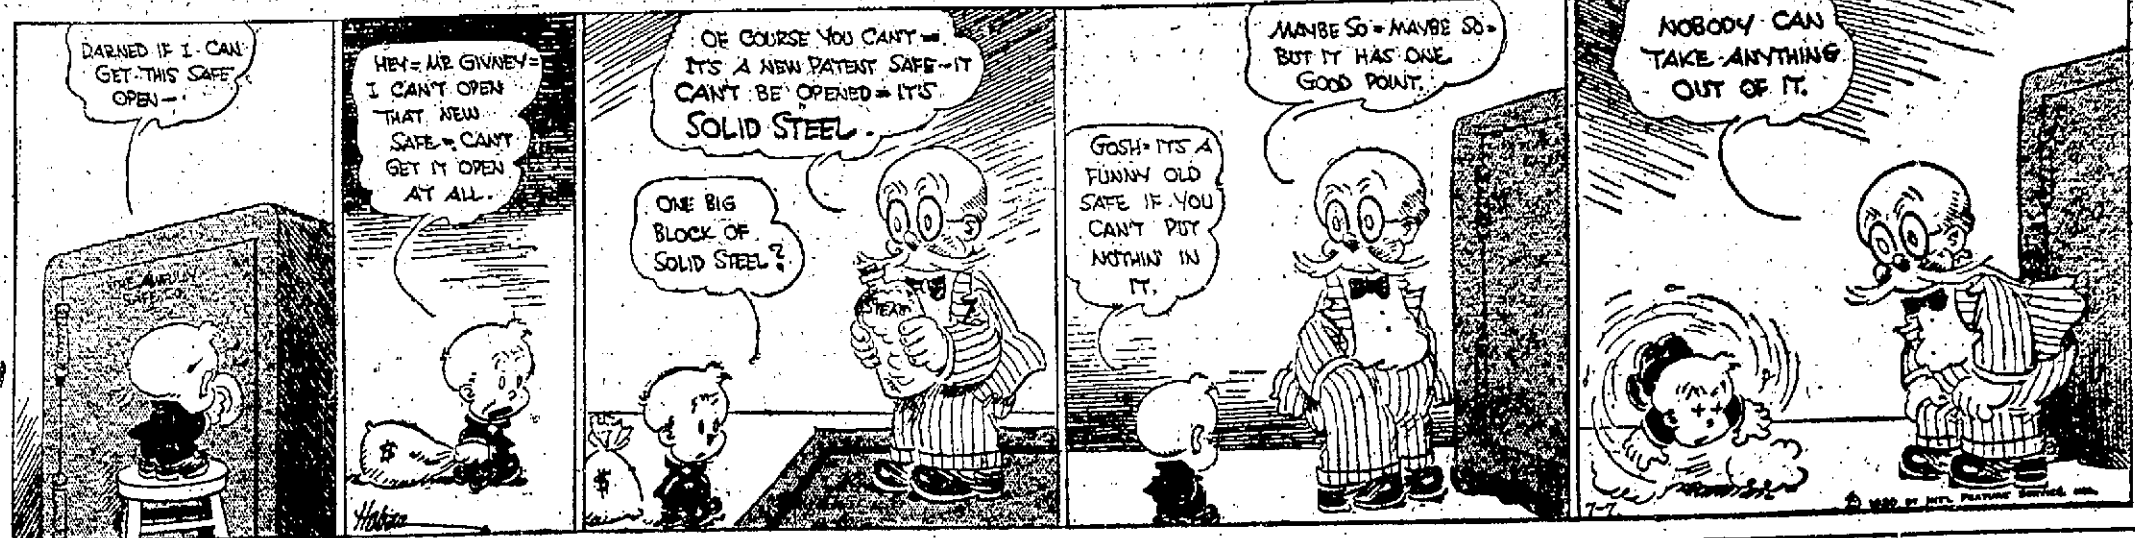

IT IS a remarkable fact that in a country which has never elected a newspaperman president, two candidates for that office should be newspapermen in 1920.

Cox and Harding are similar in other respects beside profession. Both were farmer boys, both were poor, both took over broken-down newspapers and built them up into successful journals, and both are Ohioans.

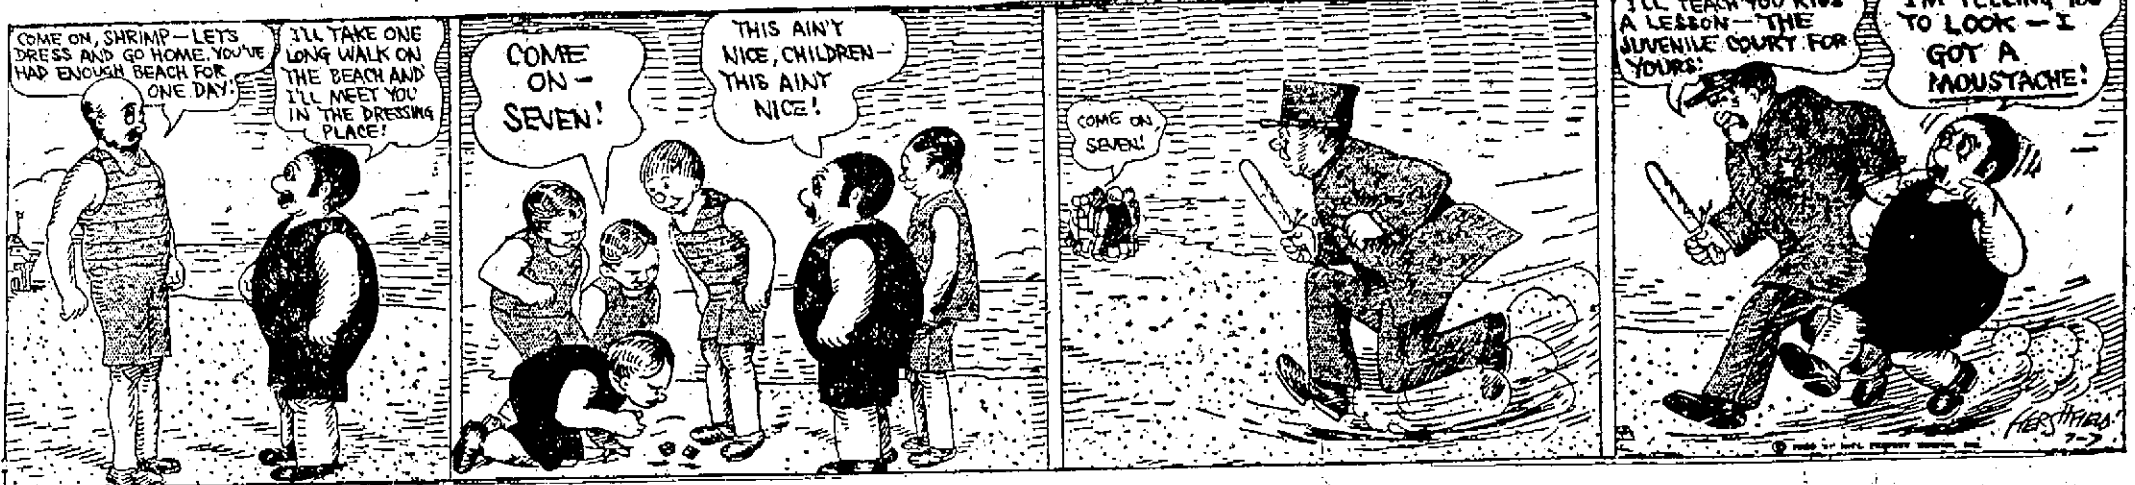

The similarity between the candidates extends to the platforms on which the candidates will run. Both the Republican and Democratic platforms endorse private ownership of the railroads, both favor protecting American "interests" in Mexico, both omit reference to monopoly, peace-time conscription, the espionage laws, anti-strike legislation, and both favor the perpetuation of the treaty of peace, including the league of nations.

As the campaign proceeds it will be interesting to observe what issues arise between Cox and Harding, who now appear to be in as close accord as the Siamese twins.

AT THE THEATERS

AT THE STRAND.

At the Grand—"The Mollycoddle" is unlike anything Fairbanks has yet been seen in, a new idea and a story which finds him in a character which will not alone please his host of admirers, but one which will add tremendously to his already gigantic following. Fairbanks has made a departure from the usual type of picture, for which he is famous, having done away with much of his stunting which has been supplanted by a sweet love story, affording him an opportunity to place himself in a rather subdued character of a sympathetic nature. This picture will be shown at the Grand today.

At the Fuller—To say whether or not Nazimova is better in "The Heart of a Child" than in previous production is somewhat beside the point. She is each time so utterly different, and each time it seems as if she were more moving, and appealing. This her present production, gives Nazimova the rather formidable task of depicting a cockney girl, Sally Snape. A tragedy of her girlhood causes the child to be thrown upon the world with no other protection than her inborn sense of what is right. This picture will be on view for the balance of the week including Saturday. Alice Brady in her latest picture, "Sinners," comes to the Fuller Sunday.

At the New Strand—Wallace Reid in a new screen comedy, "The Dancing Fool," will be the attraction at the Strand theater commencing today. The photoplay is said to present the star in a role that is unusual and that ideally suits Mr. Reid's buoyant personality. The picture was adapted from a popular magazine story by Henry Payson Dowst. Sam Wood directed and it is a Paramount Artcraft picture. As added attraction Literary Digest's Topic of the Day and "A Wolf Hunt" will also be shown.

TO TRAIN TEACHERS
MARINETTE—Shortage of teachers in Wisconsin, as well as throughout the United States, has prompted the Stephenson Training school of Marinette county to put on this summer, for the first time in its history, a summer training course for rural school teachers. The course will open July 5 and will continue six weeks. It will offer an opportunity for this year's high school graduates to get some of the professional training they will require before securing teaching positions and also will give second and third grade teachers credits fitting them for higher grades.

Because of the shortage of teachers last year in Wisconsin, permits were given high school graduates to teach, without the professional training requirement. The plan was not a success and the six-week training has been made a rigid qualification. The Marinette county school has enrolled 75 students for the course, its maximum for the three teachers assigned to it. There is in addition a considerable waiting list. Three-fourths of the students are from Marinette county, the remainder from adjoining counties.

MANITOWOC—J. E. Tepcorien, instructor of vocational education in the Manitowoc city schools, has resigned to become assistant director of vocational education at Cudahy, Wis.

Voice of the People

WANTS NEW PARTY.

To the Editor of The Capital Times: I have been watching Wisconsin's politics very closely of late. I am quite dissatisfied with the situation of the Progressive republicans at present. We are facing another split in the primaries this fall that may again cost us the control of the state. The vote in the delegate election in the spring shows that the people of Wisconsin are with us. We owe it to the people and to ourselves to elect a governor in November and we cannot do it if we are split in the republican primary.

We cannot in justice to the progressives who desire to run, ask one of them to withdraw, and even if we did, they might refuse any such boss control. They claim it is their perfect right, and it is their right, to let the people choose between them. As the situation stands today, neither may succeed. But I repeat, we must succeed; the majority in Wisconsin must be represented at the polls in November. As I see it, there is only one safe course that is not open to criticism. That is to leave the republican party and form a new state party. I think our leader, Senator A. Follette, owes it to the people and to the progressive candidates for governor to bolt in this state regardless of any national movement. There are two parties in Wisconsin: one progressive, the other reactionary. It is time we stop fooling with machines that are manipulated by capital, and it is time that the people of Wisconsin have a party that they can feel in sympathy with. The candidates, the issues and the voting members of a progressive party are here. All that needs to be done is to give the word and the Progressives can sweep the state in November. We are ready. "Let's go!"

ON COUNTY AGENTS

Winnebago county has just received some wholesome advertising which Fond du Lac county will miss out on for the reason that our neighbor on the north has a county agent and Fond du Lac has none. Groups of farmers who plan tours of the county in quest of pure, bread dairy stock go to those counties where a county agent is available. Fond du Lac Commonweal.

CONSIDER BETTER TRAIN SERVICE

In order to obtain better train service delegates from Janesville, Madison, Milwaukee, Ft. Atkinson, Jefferson, Waubesa and Edgerton will meet in Janesville, July 12 to discuss the matter and to select a committee to present the problem to the railroad commission.

SCHOOL HEAD QUIT

MANITOWOC—A severe indictment of the Manitowoc school system came in the resignation of Joseph W. Voboril as county superintendent. He resigned to accept a position as principal of one of the city grade schools because his salary as superintendent was not sufficient to live upon. He received $1,500 a year, while supervising teachers working under him receive $1,500.

EVANGELIST ACTIVE

BIRCHWOOD—H. Gordon Bennett, Evangelist, accompanied by W. B. Van Evra, a gospel singer, will open revival meetings at Hillsdale, Barron county, which will continue for a month or more. Mr. Bennett has carried on meetings of this kind in 20 different states and also in Canada.

THE PROPER COURSE

There are white men—many of them—with negro propensities. Witness the acts of five men in attacking a seventeen-year-old girl in New York City and leaving her unconscious on a pier.

The five men were arrested and locked up. Where was the rope?

Of course we don't mean that. But in view of the many recent negro lynchings, it does seem strange that white men should be treated differently when committing the crime for which negroes are hanged.

In arresting and confining these men, the law was adhered to. This was proper. The men should not be hanged. Neither should the negro be hanged.

We must recognize that the negro is a human being. He must be treated as such.

If a caged gorilla were to escape and kill a white person and the gorilla were to be captured without trouble and allowed himself peacefully to be led back to the cage, men would not gather with a rope and insist on hanging him.

In Texas they lynched two negroes for having been implicated in killing a sheriff.

Why not be consistent?—Manitowoc Times.

POSTCARD PLATFORM

"If I had my way, said Vice-President Marshall at San Francisco, "I would write the Democratic platform on a postcard." The vice-president will not have his way, but it would be a good thing for the party and a commendable political reform if he did. A postcard platform would make a hit with the voters and it probably would get a good many votes.—Appleton Post-Crescent.

MAY PUBLISH WILL

ASHLAND—The will of the late John D. Kennedy, the Madison lumberman, may be made public upon the arrival of A. D. McDonald of Ashland at Madison. Mr. McDonald, who is postmaster at Ashland, was a life-long friend of Mr. Kennedy, and the latter made a will and wrote Mr. McDonald stating that he had asked to have the latter appointed executor. The will has been in the custody of a Madison bank and has not been read yet. Mr. Kennedy was formerly a resident of Ashland, living here many years.
